

Project Sew & Tell Hits the Runway!

Two years apart has given us unexpected opportunities to try patterns we may not have considered before, experiment with new techniques, or venture in to new sewing territories. Project Sew & Tell is an opportunity to walk the runway and show off what you've been sewing, whether it's a new garment from an Indie designer, a table runner for the holidays, or a quilt for a treasured family member. We can't wait to see what you've been sewing!

Rules for Sew & Tell entries:

- Limit of two (2) items. Use one submission form for each item submitted.
- Attach fabric swatches and a photo or drawing of the item.
- Attach a written commentary of no more than 75 words. See page 2 for more information.
